collaboration, introduction, creating a campaign, publishing posts on social networks, identifying people in need of Any possible way and any action that fulfills the purpose of Sopa Token.

The main and important question about why we didn't use the existing coins and tokens for humanitarian actions and created the special Sopa token?

The shortest answer is: according to its white paper, each coin and token has its own business goals, and if the owner of the coin or token takes humanitarian actions, it is his personal decision, and there is no place for a dedicated token that is solely for actions. It was felt that humanitarianism had been created.

The price of this token is offered at a fixed price of 1$.

Once every three months, through the social networks of this token and other communication bridges, the performance report and all the actions taken will be transparently communicated to the public, and all the people who help will support each other in this way.

The sale of this token includes two financial contributions:

1. The seller spends the money received from the token on humanitarian measures.
2. The buyer dedicates it to the realization of this goal and this cycle is repeated until the goals of this token are fulfilled.
